What is The Pathway Home?

The Pathway Home is a long-term residential treatment program that addresses the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual well-being of youth ages 13-18.

Youth receive counseling to address emotional, behavioral and substance abuse problems that impact the health of their families, personal well-being and success in school.

Through a combination of individual, group and educational interventions, the youth learn healthier methods of managing their behavior, handling conflict and anger, and how to progress in their recovery while improving relationships with family members.

The Pathway Home's atmosphere, services and diversity provide an environment rich with cultural learning and experiences. This uniquely designed program weaves culture and tradition into teaching youth to make healthy choices, pursue wellness and become strong young adults.

Who is eligible?

Youth who are:

- Between the ages of 13 and 18
- Experiencing problems with substance abuse
- Falling behind in school
- At risk for displacement from home and/or family
- Involved with Juvenile Justice
- Willing to pursue established educational goals
- Motivated to engage in treatment and achieve wellness goals
- Able to make a commitment to work through their social and behavioral problems
